NWT collaborates with Austreme to provide “Web Application Security Service” in Hong Kong

(8 June 2011, Hong Kong) New World Telecommunications Limited (“NWT”), a pioneering telecom service provider in Hong Kong and Austreme Limited (“Austreme”), a leading cloud security provider based in Australia have announced today the partnership of offering the Web Application Security Service in Hong Kong.

NWT Web Application Security Service can help online merchants strengthen the security level in online transactions and avoid data leakage such as credit card or ID card numbers, reduce risks of web attacks such as Cross Site Scripting (XSS), SQL Injection, OWASP Top 10, etc., as well as achieve compliance with an easy and cost-effective cloud-based solution. Real-time 24 x 7 monitoring by professional security analysts with regular scanning services will also be provided in order to discover new vulnerabilities of website. This service is flexible and cost effective, and no hardware and software installations are required.

Mr. Johnny Cheung, Executive Vice President - Networks & IT of NWT, said, “Surfing Internet has become the daily routine of many people nowadays and there has been a significant increasing trend for online shopping in mainland China, Taiwan and Hong Kong. We believe that a secured online transaction platform is necessary for merchants to attract more customers to shop online. In view of this, partnering with Austreme allows us to provide the state-of-the-art Web Application Security Service to on-line merchants in Hong Kong.”

Mr. Terence Chau, Executive Director of Austreme, added, “We have been providing cloud security services extensively in Asia Pacific, online shopping is very popular in Australia and we have seen all kinds of old and new hacking techniques coming from everywhere in the world which leads us to keep enhancing our cloud security features for the changing needs. Hong Kong is very important to us as we are seeing more and more China merchants establishing their online stores in Hong Kong for overseas buyers. NWT enables us to provide better focus in Hong Kong by its strong local experience and support.”
